

Puppy Dog Costume

By: incandescently

<http://www.burdastyle.com/projects/puppy-dog-costume>

---

I went to goodwill and got a brown robe and brown pants. Then I went to the local fabric store and got some fuzzy fabric (can't remember the exact name, I know it wasn't real) and used the base of these shoes to cut out cardboard (made the one inch bigger than his shoes)... Then I sewed the cut out for the fabric onto his cardboard and made it fit snugly around the shoe. Cut out spots, tail and ears and sewed them on by hand, I sewed everything by hand. I think that is it. This costume took me less than 2 hours to create and less than $5.00, can't beat that! :)

Materials

Brown robe and pants from goodwill, fuzzy material from local fabric store, cardboard, bone and collar.

---

Step 1 — Find the Materials you need.

First I went to the goodwill and found a brown robe and brown pants (I was lucky to find the robe with a hood and all, if you can't find something just like this, I would get a brown turtleneck and a brown hat to sew the ears on), Then I went to the local fabric store and bought some fabric that looked like fur, I had cardboard, a collar, and a bone at home. Ducktape.

---

Step 2 — Cut and Sew

Cut the ears, tail and spots out of the fur-like material, Hand sew them onto the robe. Trace the shoes and cut out the cardboard one inch bigger than actual shoe size. Duck tape the shoes onto the cardboard. I then put the material onto the shoe and cut out the fabric a little bigger than the whole sandal & cardboard so I could sew it to the bottom, Once I had it sewed down I cut a whole big enough for his foot to go into.

---

Step 3 — Put it on!

I put on the pants, rob and fuzzy shoes. Then I added some accessories... Tied a bone to one of the rob strings, and added a collar for extra effect. I have a dog so I didn't have to buy the collar or bone, Just used the dogs. I think that is about it. If Any of my advice was not understandable please let me know.

---

BurdaStyle

Puppy Dog Costume