

How to easily unstitch overlock stitch :)

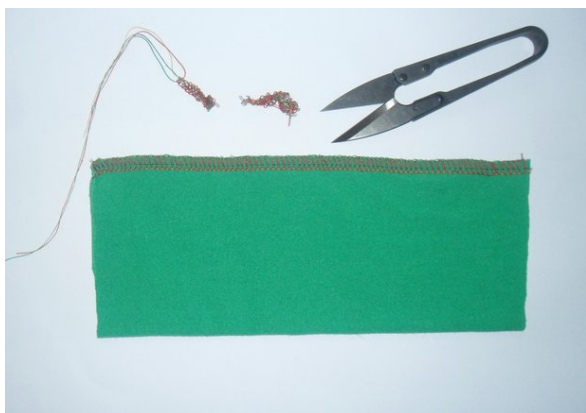

By: Vayle

<http://www.burdastyle.com/techniques/how-to-easily-unstitch-overl>

Subject can sound funny, but after my journey with searching for right thread tension when I was sewing blouse from two different types of knit I realized that someone else can have the same nightmare so I've decided that I'll try to help :)

Step 1 — 1

First off all we have to cut out threads from each sides.

Step 2 — 2

How to easily unstitch overlock stitch :)

Then gently draw out right needle stitch and pull it out moving fabric

Step 3 — 3

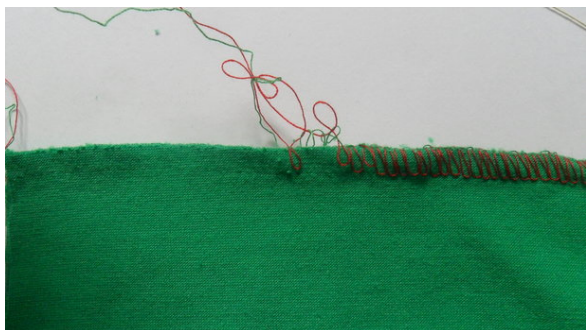

The same thing we have to do with left needle stitch

Step 4 — 4

And now we can see that other threads are going out of fabric

Step 5 — THE END

For more info check out my blog:

<http://vaylebyrne.blogspot.com/2013/09/tutorial-jak-najatwiej-wypruc-szew.html>

BurdaStyle

How to easily unstitch overlock stitch :)